WEDDING-DAY DISASTER

Nelson and Kerrie celebrate their big day alone when the guests get caught up at work

The All Saints staff caps off a troubled year with all the romance and happiness of a wedding – but even that doesn't go to plan when the Emergency Department experiences its busiest day all year.

Nelson (Paul Tassone) and Kerrie (Jaime Mears) want to share the joy of exchanging vows with all their friends and colleagues, but the emergency ward is stretched to the limit following an explosion at a paint factory.

ER boss Frank (John

Howard) announces it's all hands on deck – with no exceptions!

Von (Judith McGrath) has the hardest time meeting her responsibilities, as she's determined to be on hand to witness her niece marry Nelson.

A freak accident in the ward puts a life on the line and stuns the entire staff. There are demons at work behind the scenes and staying alive to witness the romantic nuptials quickly becomes the top order of the day.

LEAH'S FINALLY PREGNANT...

... but the news is bittersweet as her marriage falls apart

While Leah has been carefully saving every cent for IVF treatment, her husband Dan (Tim Campbell) has been racking up a massive gambling debt – and the couple seems set to end the year in disaster.

Dan's out-of-control gambling has finally caught up with him and, when he can't pay up, the Mob kidnaps his son Ryan (Isaac Gordon)!

Leah (Ada Nicodemou) wonders what kind of man she has married, but when a home-pregnancy test returns a positive result, she realises she's locked in a union without trust.

There's sadness ahead, as Flynn (Joel McIlroy) tries to tie up loose ends with the little time he has left. Then, with some help from old friends, the dying man resorts to the most heartbreaking decision of his life.

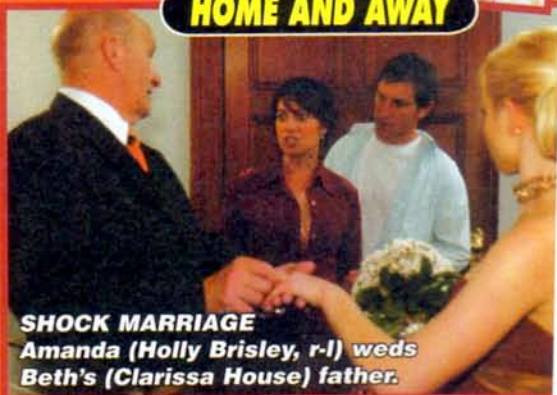

Flynn isn't the only one making drastic changes. After
